

WILD CAT

I've tried to forget you for many years
but then I hear you meow and there you appear.
You come, eat and go, when and how you want,
and I am left here with my purring heart.

I can't even be mad at you for all the things that you don't do, cause when you rub against me I lose my mind.

You're a wild cat, you always go your way.
Wild cat, can anybody make you stay?
So untamable, you're just a wild cat.

Have you ever told me what you feel for me?
The only thing I know is we're easy in the heat.
When you disappear, sometimes for a season,
the feline in you never gives me a reason.

I can't even be mad at you for all the things you'll never do,
'cause when you rub against me it makes me smile

You're a wild cat, you always go your way.
Wild cat, can anybody make you stay?
So untamable, you're just a wild cat.

You're just a little too stray for me, you're unavailable.
Should I give up on you? 'Cause your heart is untouchable...

You're just a wild cat.
Oh wild cat, did anybody ever make you stay?
Your heart feels untouchable, you're just a wild cat.
Wild cat, you always go your way.
Wild cat, can anybody make you stay?
So untamable, you're just a wild cat.
